

Abitibi Properties – Quebec, Canada

---

HuntMountain Resources has acquired an option to earn a 100% interest in two gold properties covering 6,500 acres within Québec’s prolific Abitibi region of northwestern Québec.

Lac à l’Eau Jaune Project

The property is located 20 miles SW of the Town of Chibougamau and consists of 21 claims covering 2900 acres. Lac à l’Eau Jaune lies within the prominent Chibougamau District which has reportedly produced over 33 million ounces of gold from 28 mines. The property is neighbored by several significant gold projects including the Joe Mann Mine, Chevrier, Lac Meston, and Philibert deposits. Unimproved roads run through most of the claim block and the property is easily accessed from the main highway to Chibougamau.

Malartic Surimau Project

The Malartic Surimau Project lies within the prolific Abitibi Gold Belt and is comprised of 25 claims covering 3554 acres approximately 10 miles southwest of the Town of Malartic and 25 miles west of Val d’Or. Major precious metal exploration and development programs in the area include the Canadian Malartic (Osisko) and Goldex (Agnico-Eagle) projects. Osisko recently announced the acquisition and future exploration of an additional 241 claims staked to the north and east of the Malartic Surimau property. The Abitibi Gold Belt of western Québec and eastern Ontario has produced nearly 150 million ounces of gold and remains one of the world’s richest mining regions.

Exploration

Initial exploration including geochemical surface sampling and drill target delineation will be aided by a proprietary artificial intelligence resource detection technology (CARDS) developed by Montreal-based Diagnos, Inc. HuntMountain will earn a 100% interest in each property following the completion of an initial drilling program consisting of at least three holes.
